SOLDIER ARRESTED FOR CAR THEFT

Quick thinking on the part of Wilmington police, plus a tip-off from Tewksbury police resulted on Monday in the temporary end of a career in car theft and check forgery for a man who claimed both Boston and Cambridge as residences.

After a call from the Tewksbury police department that a man in uniform was headed toward Wilmington in a suspicious car officers Dolan and Fuller stopped a 'soldier' heading south. Noticing the infantry blue on the 'soldier's' over-seas cap, they inquired what branch he was in. 'Artillery', was the reply.

The driver - John Miller was brought to the station for further questioning.

He admitted the theft of the car in which he was driving, plus thefts of several other cars, and the passing of bad checks.

A wallet which he had on his person had the name of Edwin Heath inside; he admitted using this name to cash a check, he claimed he found the wallet in Scollay Square.

Smith claimed to belong to the 501 Combat Team at Fort Devens, but was unable to produce an ID card. He admitted to serving time in State Prison.

Smith was turned over to the Boston Police for further questioning by them and by military authorities.

THREE YOUTHS BEING HELD ON MALICIOUS DAMAGE CHARGES

Three youths, 16 and 17 years old are being held in bail of $500 each, charged by the Wilmington police with malicious damage to various places in Wilmington.

Included in the list of damaged places is St. Dorothy's Hall, which was broken into about Christmas time, the breaking of windows of telephone booths in various parts of town, and false alarm charges.

Two of the youths are understood to be Wilmington boys, while one is reported to be from Billerica, and is identified by the Wilmington Police as being one of the persons who broke a window at the Elia Brothers Country Market in North Wilmington last summer.

Regular stops will be made in North Wilmington at the corner of Woburn St and Hathaway Rd at 10 a.m., and in the Silver Lake area at the corner of Main St and Grove Ave at 11:30 a.m. The length of each stop will depend partly on the volume of business at each place, roughly some where between half an hour, and an hour.

The bookmobile will carry a well rounded selection of 1800 of the 25,000 books which the center is equipped to house. Any Wilmington resident is eligible to become a borrower at

TOWN MEETING APPROVES ALL ARTICLES

At a special Town Meeting held on Monday evening, Jan. 20th, the town unanimously approved all three articles in the warrant.

By its action, the town rescinded the Article passed in the Special Town Meeting of August 8, 1957; authorized the Treasurer to borrow $400,000, and issue bonds and notes for twenty years, and authorized Junior-Senior High School Building Committee to enter into contract for the furnishing and equipping the addition; and transferred the unexpended balance of approximately $75,000 which was voted in a previous Special Town Meeting for the original erection of the building.

By its action, the town is assured of sufficient classroom space for this coming fall, as well as sufficient classroom and shop space for the High School itself, at the time when it is expected that it will be used as a high school exclusively.

Construction is expected to begin in the near future.

One-hundred and seventy-seven voters attended the Special Town Meeting, twenty-seven more than the one hundred and fifty required for a quorum.

BOARD OF HEALTH TO HAVE REGISTRATION FOR POLIO CLINIC

Children are being registered by their parents with the Board of Health until January 24th for a new polio clinic, planned to be held in the near future.

Children who have yet to receive their first inoculation, or who have had their first inoculation elsewhere must be registered by their parents with the Board, as well as those children who have not completed their polio vaccine inoculations.

CYO BASKETBALL PLAYERS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

A snack of coffee and doughnuts after a basketball game in Chelmsford cost a group of CYO basketball girls a quite serious accident Monday night, January 13th. Hospitalized for a week because of the shock received were Miss Virginia Dawson and Miss Kathleen Coyne. The other girls involved - the Misses Gwen Fisher, Anne Sullivan and Marion Fisher, although badly bruised, were not kept in the hospital.

The accident occurred about 10:15 near the New England Sanatorium when the car skidded on the ice, landed up on the snow bank and hit a tree. One of the girls crawled out of the car and hailed passing motorists. Motorists took the girls to North Reading Police Station where, according to the girls, they received no attention until the arrival of Mr. James Dawson, father of two of the girls, who demanded

PROPOSED VARIANCES BRING PROTESTS AT APPEAL BOARD HEARING

Residents of Wilmington strongly protested two proposed variances, at the Board of Appeals hearings in the Town Hall last Thursday evening.

David C. Carpenter Jr of 343 Salem Street appeared before the board to propose cutting a lot of land on which his home stands into two lots, both of which would be with less frontage than the law calls for, by a few feet.

He was strongly opposed by

MR. BABCOCK WAS RIGHT

Last week in this column we sort of expressed a hope that the Town Meeting of Monday night could be completed in 10 minutes. It took 13.

The three minutes were used by Mr. Corum, chairman of the School Building Committee, to explain just what was planned. The explanation was very brief, but covered the situation quite well.

It was Ralph Babcock who asked for the explanation. Mr. Babcock felt that the town couldn't vote over $400,000 without one word of explanation.

And when you get down to think of it all, Mr.
Babcock was right, even if it did prolong the meeting for three whole minutes.

THE IPSWICH DRAINAGE AGAIN

Every now and then in this column we refer to the problem of the drainage of the Ipswich River, as it affects Wilmington. As our readers know if the drainage could be effected ultimately Wilmington could probably double its amount of usable land. As our readers also know there is a bill in the State Legislature which was sponsored by Representatives Tanner and Wilkinson, to have the Commonwealth do the necessary work in effecting this drainage - at a cost of about $600,000.

We have kept our fingers crossed, during the desultory events of the past few years. The bill has had good reports - except what will happen to the water supplies of some other towns and cities is a question that is always asked, and never answered.

The immediate stumbling block is the water supply of our sister-town of Reading, which is from a well field located near the Ipswich, and just south of the Wilmington-Reading line.

To date no one has been willing to stand up and publicly make a statement as to what will happen to Reading's water supply if the proposed drainage is put into effect. It is a chancy thing to do, to be sure. No one wants to stick out his neck.

Privately we have been told by one expert authority, not from Wilmington, that the drainage will not effect Reading's water supply at all. The statement however was private - no public statements to be made.

All of which brings us to the present. The Reading Chronicle, last week had a story to the effect that large additional supplies of water had been found within the bounds of Reading - just where the Chronicle could not tell, because the report still has to be made public.

It would appear from the story that the answer has been found to one of the problems that has been holding up progress on the Ipswich River Bill.

We just will have to sit back and wait for more news.

OUR BASKET BALL TEAM

Our Sports Aficianado, John "RedHead" Daly, is one of the type of gentlemen who has many things in his basket, including a serious course of study at a nearby college. Mr. Daly was going to cover our Basketball team for us but it is getting to the time of the MidYear exams, and Mr. Daly has other things to do.

Suffice it to say at the moment that Wilmington has a basketball team of which it can be proud this winter. The boys who made a name for themselves on the gridiron are now doing better than a good job on the court.

North Andover beat Wilmington last Saturday by a 70 to 44 score. An out of town paper said it was an easy winner, but such is not the case.
Up to that moment Wilmington and North Andover stood tied, with three wins apiece. Now North Andover is ahead.

But, as we said, it was not an easy win for North Andover. Those boys knew that they had been in a basketball game before the evening was over, and Wilmington's boys are a far better team than we have had in some years.

We can be proud of them, including the defeat by North Andover.

TOWN NOTES

Case of the Unbought Stocks Last week we told the story of the little old lady in town who received a dividend for stocks she had never bought.
This week she received a letter from the treasurer of the company by whom the stocks were issued. He didn't understand the matter himself, but had written a letter to the brokers. The lady in question is still clinging to the dividend check - hoping against hope.

Exhibition

Over in Andover Academy, a very interesting exhibition is being shown these days. It is called 'Artistic highlights of American history' and it is being shown the rest of this month and up to February 16th in the Addison Gallery of American Art.

Surveying the Situation

East side, west side, all around the town - and the rest doesn't sound so poetical. The surveyors you have been seeing are setting up bench marks in connection with the eventual joining with the M.D.C. Sewerage system.

Thunderation

Charles Black did not make his customary motion to 'dispense with further meeting of the warrant' at the Town Meeting Monday night. Selectman Black has been the person to make this motion for quite a few years, but this time he was not sitting at the Select-men's table - the table was so situated that he would have to have his back to the Townspeople, and this Mr. Black refused to do.

So Stanley Webber of the Finance Committee made the motion instead.

Stealing Black's Thunder,
that's what it was.

Town Meeting with one rubber

TO HAVE A WORKOUT TONIGHT
DR. WILLIAM WIDGER (LEFT) AND HENRY F. 'HANK' SULLIVAN, OF WILMINGTON'S CIVIL DEFENSE RADIOLOGICAL WARFARE TEAM, PHOTOGRAPHED BY THE TOWN CRIER LAST MAY, DURING AN AIR DEFENSE ALERT. THEY ARE DRAWING A MAP OF THE THEORETICAL 'FALLOUT' FROM AN ATOM BOMB WHICH WAS IMAGINED TO HAVE STRUCK WESTOVER AIR BASE IN WESTERN MASS.

RESIDENTS OF WILMINGTON MAY NOT HAVE BEEN AWARE OF THE THEORETICAL EVENTS OF THE PAST FEW DAYS, BUT LAST SUNDAY AN ATOM BOMB WAS SUPPOSED TO HAVE HIT LOWELL - ONE OF THE MISSILE TYPE FIRED FROM AN ENEMY SUBMARINE LURKING OFF SHORE, AND FOR THE PAST THREE DAYS RESIDENTS OF WILMINGTON HAVE BEEN THEORETICALLY UNDER COVER WHILE THE CIVIL DEFENSE AUTHORITIES WAIT TO DECLARE THE 'ALL CLEAR'.

TONIGHT, AT 7, THE RADIOLOGICAL AND OTHER CIVIL DEFENSE TEAMS OF WILMINGTON WILL WORK OUT THE THEORETICAL DAMAGES TO THIS AREA, AND FIND OUT WHETHER OR NOT IT IS THEORETICALLY SAFE FOR SURVIVORS TO LEAVE THEIR HOMES.

THE WORKOUT WILL BE IN THE BASEMENT OF THE TOWN HALL AND WILL BE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC, FOR THOSE WHO MAY CARE TO WATCH.

WATER METERS

The water meter program, voted by the Town at our last Annual Town Meeting, is now about 95% completed, and will shortly be 100%.

About 2400 meters have been installed to date. The Water Department has instituted a program of reading the meters every three months. Such a program sounds easy, and is, except that adjustments have to be made as the number of meters increase.

As the program is to be ultimately worked out one employee will be used about half-time in the reading of meters - so many each month. The rest of the time he will be used for other purposes.

But in order to use him efficiently, so that he will not be traipsing all over town each month he will have to work by "blocks" or areas encompassing such areas into a workable program will mean inevitably that some meters will have to be read in what would seem to be an "off-period" time - that is in perhaps the first or second month after the previous reading, instead of waiting for a full three months.

All this is readily understandable, if a person but stops and reflects for a moment. The Water Department however is keeping its fingers crossed.

The Water Department knows for certain that it will receive calls from irate citizens who will suspect the worst when they get two bills only one or two months apart. They know that those citizens will call first, and then look at the bill afterwards to see if it is really prorated for the period, as the Water Department plans to do, and will tell the citizen when he calls up, full of fire and fury.

THE time of the year when one can look back and find out if a person was or was not running when he spoke at the various hearings during the past year.

One person who did speak up, and about whom the cynical claimed he was running for office was Maynard 'Red' Eaton of Ballardvale Street. Mr. Eaton for instance, was quite prominent at the hearings on the Old Age Housing. He didn't know it, but on the sidelines he was being called, at that very moment 'Selectman Eaton'.

We thought so too, but Mr. Eaton has just definitely announced that he is no candidate.

We guess he was talking because he believes in Old Age Housing. So we owe him half an apology.

Typewriter

Down in the Town Hall at the present moment is a typewriter which has been left there for a trial. It is one of the danglest typewriters we have ever seen.

Made in Germany, it has all sorts of gadgets which we have never seen on an American typewriter. We don't know if Marge Larivee would have time to show you the machine, but she is quite excited about the whole thing.

action and got it in the form of an ambulance which took the young women to St. John's Hospital in Lowell.

In addition to all the bad luck mentioned - the girls had lost the game with St. John's parochial School, by just one basket.

neighbors - Fred Melzar, Claude Helwig and John Brooks, each of whom told the Board of Appeals that they had purchased their homes because all the homes in the area had large lots and were thus more desirable. To allow one of the places to be cut up into small lots would detract from the value of their properties they told the Board of Appeals.

They pointed out that Mr. Carpenter knew the size of the land when he bought it.

Mr. Melzar attempted to bring into the discussion the fact that the house was a multiple dwelling in a single area residence, but he was overruled by the Chairman of the Appeals Board, Walter Hale. The question was again brought up by another neighbor Mrs. Philip Buzzell who told Mr. Hale that she felt that there should be no consideration for a variance when the house had already been illegally made into a multiple dwelling by a previous owner.

A proposal to make a two family house of the former Devine home on Mystic Avenue in North Wilmington found the neighbors objecting.

The present owner, a lady from Woburn, told the Appeal Board that she wanted to make two apartments so that her children could live upstairs and she downstairs.

Neighbors led by Mrs. Edith Trail objected. The area is a single residence zone they told the Board of Appeals, and they were living there because of that feature. They wanted no multiple dwellings near them.

To The Publisher
Town Crier
North Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Sir:

An editorial in your paper of January 2nd appeared, in which the town seems to be interested in standard housing for old age people who are cared for by the town and state. It is wonderful to think of the ageing of the town and see that they are cared for. But what about the old age citizens and tax-payers who can't get aid of any sort if they have a home unless they allow the town and state to place a lien on their home? Are these old people to be forgotten? Many of them are trying to exist on a very small social security, not enough to keep body and soul together. To those old people some sort of gratitude should be given. They should not be treated the way our town government has done to these people - doubling the valuation on homes they worked hard to have for the time they could no longer work.

Many of these people have old homes for over half a century. They are not asking for charity, just a lower tax rate so that they may be able to live in peace. Instead, they have their very life blood squeezed out of them by high taxes.

What are these people going to do? They couldn't raise a family and save money to live on with a small income. Now, they must keep on paying for the upkeep of the people who receive big money and sit in a nice warm office and tell these old folks what they can do.

I am one of them who made a home by the sweat of my brow with hard and honest work and small pay while four of my family were fighting for freedom, and one of them paying with his life. Is this justice for old people or is it persecution to be taxed out of our homes?

They tell you the assessors are compelled by law to charge a fair price on the valuation of a home. Then why not use everyone alike?

If all you good people who are interested in being fair to everyone look up the book for valuations, you can see for yourself.

My home is over sixty years old, an old camp fixed up to live in. It is on concrete posts, unfinished inside and out. The only heat is a kitchen range. Another house of the same number of rooms and the same amount of land, with a heating system, and finished is assessed for $2425.00, but my place is assessed for $2675.00. Another building on that land is not assessed at all.

In another case, a big house is assessed for $3700, while another place, only half the size is assessed for $3725.00.

I could go on and on with many more in the town.

It's up to our town officials to tell us old people what to do. Our boys went overseas to fight dictators when we have so many at home here under other names.

I think it's about time that someone should start a crusade to help social security tax-payers and reduce the burden on these forgotten old folks. Show them a little fair play.

But they seem to stick to that old slogan 'favor in hell', and a hell of a lot of it is in Wilmington.

Catherine Duggan

(Note: This paper strongly agrees with Mrs. Duggan's sentiments that old-age tax payers are being squeezed of their life's blood. In our edition of January 2nd, that is exactly the point which we attempted to make.

If state laws do not allow local authorities to consider the problems of these aged tax-payers, it is high time that someone on the state level of government do something about it. If the state laws do allow some consideration of the plight of these people in the valuation of these homes, it is high time that local authorities do something about it.

To be trite there should be a law, a law with no strings attached, to allow these old people to live out their days without paying out every cent they managed to save for their old age in the form of taxes. These people have fulfilled their responsibility.

tails of registration and borrowing privileges may be learned from the Librarian when the bookmobile comes.

The Center will operate with a staff of three; Librarian, Mrs. Richard J. Sullivan, clerk-chauffeur Rene Faucher, and a clerical assistant. Three days of each week Mrs. Sullivan and Mr. Faucher will travel in the bookmobile, making 38 stops in 28 towns of northeastern Massachusetts every three weeks. The remainder of the week will be spent in restocking the bookmobile, etc.

In addition to its service to individuals, the Center will offer consultation service to local libraries.

The Regional Library Center in North Reading is the fourth such center to be set up by the Division of Library Extension. Regional centers in Pittsfield, Greenfield, and Fall River have been operated since 1940, following a recommendation four years earlier by the Division of Public Libraries. The funds for operation of these services during their first two years were provided by a grant from the Works Progress Administration, and the original bookmobiles were gifts of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, the Massachusetts Library Aid Association, and the Massachusetts Library Association. Rent-free office quarters were contributed by the Public Libraries of Pittsfield, Fall River and Greenfield.

In the northeastern section of the State, the Merrimac Valley Library Association, a voluntary organization has for many years circulated its books through the local libraries in this area. This association and librarians and trustees in this area have worked and planned for many years to bring regional library service here.

The 'dream come true', a new State bookmobile operated from a new regional center to serve northeastern Massachusetts followed passages of the Federal Library Services Act in June 1956. The purpose of the act is to further extend library service to rural areas and to supplement local library service. The Act provided Federal Grants, if matched by State funds, for a period of five years, for extension of service, including purchase of bookmobiles but not land or buildings, to towns of less than 10,000 population according to the 1950 census.

MR. FRED CORUM

MR. FRED CORUM, CHAIRMAN OF THE SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE, FOR THE EXTENSION OF THE JUNIOR--SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, INTRODUCES HIS ARTICLE AT THE SPECIAL TOWN MEETING LAST MONDAY EVENING. THE MEETING WAS SHORT AND SWEET.

WILMINGTON BOOSTER'S BANQUET GREAT SUCCESS

On Saturday evening, the 11th more than 300 citizens of Wilmington sat down to eat, drink and make merry with the young people of the town at the High School gym.

Led by the cheer leaders of Wilmington High, and closely followed by the Field Hockey and football teams, the athletes filed to their places at the tables, amidst a group of cheering citizens. The invocation was read by the Rev. Mr. Cummings of the Congregational Church, and the large body sat down to a catered dinner of roast turkey, with all the trappings, including hot coffee for the elders, milk for the youngsters, and plenty of ice cream, cookies and cake. No one was heard to complain of not having enough to eat.

The closing salutation was read by the Rev. Fr. John Regan, of St. Thomas' parish, and a program of dancing followed.

Jackets were presented to the Senior members of the Football squad, and the lettermen received trophies, each one a bronze football player, mounted on marbelized wooden blocks. Trophies presented to the Field Hockey players, who have had an undefeated season, were of a similar type, depicting a symbol of their sport. The senior cheer leaders received white coat-style sweaters, and the under-clubmen were presented trophies.

Much is to be said in the way of thanks, for the men and women of the Town of Wilmington who made the evening a success prominent among these being Mr. Bob Hastings, Mrs. Helen Casey, Mr. George Dyas, Mr. Irving Storms, Mrs. George Dyas, and Miss Carol Casey, the latter taking the office of Secretary only two weeks ago, to relieve Mrs. Dyas.

Mr. Ding' Driscoll, beloved assistant principal of the High School, acted as Master of Ceremonies for the event, and there were no outstanding orators present for after-dinner speeches, only the Coaches Bellissimo, Ritchie, and Keady who said a few heartfelt things, and thanked the boys and girls for a successful season. Joe Wells, and his boys, from Tewksbury rendered the music for dancing.

BOARD OF HEALTH ASSURED OF EVICTION POWERS BY COURT

The Wilmington Board of Health has been assured of its powers of eviction of people living in sub-standard housing. In its first test case, on January 14th before Justice Lurie of the Middlesex Superior Court, the Board of Health obtained an order for eviction of a Wilmington family from their home.

A family consisting of parents and children were living in a small one room shanty and had resisted the efforts of the Board of Health over a period of several years, Agent Patrick Thebeau told the court. The house had no running water, and stood on piles. Toilet facilities consisted of a blanket around one corner of the single room, with basins and other things behind the blanket.

After the court had ordered the eviction Justice Lurie postponed it for six months at the request of the Board of Health.
